Balance Transfers are subject to account status, delinquency, and credit availability. We may decline a Balance Transfer request if we determine that you no longer meet our credit standards. If we decline a request because you no longer meet our credit standards, we will try to contact you first, but we may reject the request and notify you later. You may transfer any amount, up to your credit available for transfers, which may be less than your total credit line. If your balance transfer request will exceed your available credit, we will process your transfers for less than the amount requested, in the order requested. You may only make balance transfers to accounts that list you as an account holder. You cannot transfer balances between GE Credit Union accounts. You are not eligible for this offer if you are in default under any loan agreement with us. See your Credit Card Agreement for any other applicable fees and conditions. We reserve the right to change the rates, fees and terms of your account at any time in accordance with the card member agreement and applicable law. Reasons might include competitive or general market conditions. If we make changes for reasons other than when the Prime Rate changes, we will notify you in advance of your options, including the right to opt out.

Payments are allocated to posted balances. We will allocate the amount of your payment equal to the Total Minimum Payment Due to the highest APR balances first. Payment amounts in excess of your Total Minimum Payment Due will be applied to balances with higher APRs before balances with lower APRs. GE Credit Union is an Equal Opportunity Lender. 201706
